

How Does Protocol 15 of the Learned Elders of Zion "Ruthless Suppression" Devises a Plot for Global Government?

Sixbert SANGWA • July 24, 2024

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion is a document revealing a secret [supposed] Jewish plot for global domination (often associated with illuminati). This text has been of a lot of concern for decades. Protocol 15, titled "Ruthless Suppression," is one of the document's 24 sections. It outlines a series of measures aimed at consolidating power and controlling the populace through ruthless means. This sinister plan seemingly contributes to the broader aim of subverting global morality and usurping divine order. In this brief text, we examine Protocol 15's provisions to gain insight into how this document might have influenced geopolitical events throughout history and why it continues to resonate in contemporary discourse.

Provisions of Protocol 15 and Their Implications

Merciless Suppression of Opposition

Protocol 15 begins with a chilling proclamation:

"When we at last definitely come into our kingdom by the aid of COUPS D'ETAT prepared everywhere for one and the same day, after definitely acknowledged... we shall make it our task to see that against us such things as plots shall no longer exist. With this purpose, we shall slay without mercy all who take arms to oppose our coming into our kingdom."

This highlights a strategy of using coordinated coups to seize power and eliminate opposition through ruthless means. Throughout history, many countries globally have experienced coups that result in significant political changes and the installation of leaders who are submissive to the orchestrating group. This has often led to brutal crackdowns on dissent, exemplified by numerous events in the 20th century, such as the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia and various coups in Latin America. By orchestrating coups and ruthlessly eliminating dissent, the group aims to establish uncontested control.

Government with Absolute Authority

The authors of the document outlined a plan for an absolute global government with unquestionable authority. It states: "Resolutions of our government will be final, without appeal." This concept of centralizing power and eliminating dissent mirrors efforts towards globalism, with the UN often seen as a pilot program for such ambitions. The formation of the UN and its various branches can be viewed as steps towards establishing a centralized global governance. By embedding their agents within these international organizations, proponents of this regime aim to influence global policies, promote ideologies that favor a unified control, and gradually erode national sovereignties in favor of a singular global authority. This strategy aligns with the ongoing implementation of centralized and unquestioned governance structures, as outlined in Protocol 15.

Control Over Secret Societies

The document claims control over existing secret societies, using them to further their agenda while eliminating any that pose a threat. "Every kind of new institution of anything like a secret society will also be punished with death; those of them which are now in existence, are known to us, serve us and have served us, we shall disband and send into exile to continents far removed from Europe."

By instilling fear and exiling those who know too much, the group aims to maintain secrecy and control. The manipulation of secret societies and strategic use of exile have parallels in historical events. The Illuminati, often linked to this document, is thought to have infiltrated and controlled other secretive groups like the Freemasons and the Bilderberg Group. They allegedly use these networks to extend their influence and orchestrate their global agenda. By placing their agents within these organizations, the Illuminati supposedly ensures these groups serve their overarching goals while neutralizing potential threats to their power. The Bilderberg Group, for example, holds yearly meetings with influential figures from various sectors, fueling debates about their actual influence. Moreover, tech giants and powerful corporations often operate with considerable secrecy, shaping politics and society without clear accountability.

Manipulation Through Freemasonry

The protocol describes using Freemasonry as a tool for intelligence and exerting influence, binding revolutionary and liberal elements to their cause: "We shall create and multiply free masonic lodges in all the countries of the world... All these lodges we shall bring under one central administration, known to us alone... In these lodges we shall tie together the knot which binds together all revolutionary and liberal elements." While direct evidence of Freemasonry's manipulation is scarce, the concept of using influential networks to sway political and social dynamics is very much alive. Lobbying groups and powerful think tanks often operate behind the scenes to shape policy and public opinion. The rise of social media platforms has also created new avenues for manipulating public perception and political discourse.

Psychological Manipulation and Control

The document describes the manipulation of individuals' ambitions and curiosities to further the group's agenda: "The class of people who most willingly enter into secret societies are those who live by their wits... and in general people, mostly light-minded, with whom we shall have no difficulty in dealing... The GOYIM enter the lodges out of curiosity or in the hope by their means to get a nibble at the public pie."

This psychological manipulation can be seen in various propaganda techniques used throughout history to control and direct public behavior. In today's context, the rise of technology and social media platforms has introduced new methods of manipulation. Algorithms on platforms like Facebook and Twitter can be manipulated to suppress certain viewpoints while promoting others, effectively controlling the narrative. Additionally, the use of deepfake technology and AI-generated content further complicates the information landscape, making it harder for the public to discern truth from manipulated content.

Conclusion

Protocol 15 of the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion outlines a chilling blueprint for global domination through ruthless suppression, psychological manipulation, and exploitation of secret societies. By examining these provisions, we can see how such strategies have shaped historical events and continue to influence modern geopolitics. Their influence behind the curtain continues to fulfill biblical prophecies of end-times, but only the wise will know it. As Daniel 12:10 says, "Many shall be purified, made white, and refined, but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand." Also, 1 Corinthians 1:30 reminds us, "But of Him you are in Christ Jesus, who became for us wisdom from God—and righteousness and sanctification and redemption." As Christians, it is crucial to remain vigilant and discerning, grounded in the truths of the Bible, and aware of the spiritual battle that underpins these worldly schemes. Proverbs 24:21-22 advises, "My son, fear the Lord and the king; do not associate with those given to change; for their calamity will rise suddenly, and who knows the ruin those two can bring?"
